

HEARTWOOD

Matt Sutter

Matt Sutter has worked with concrete counters for over a decade and teaching them since 2010. His focus is the design and hands-on fabrication of projects and is always excited to think through and complete three-dimensional and complicated formwork. With a design/build background and a Masters in Architecture degree from UMass Amherst he currently lives in Northampton, Massachusetts, and enjoys skiing and building HiFi audio systems in his free time.

Courses: Concrete Countertops